FOOD RATIONS IN RUSSIA.

PEASANTS DEFY THE SOVIETS.

RIOTS IN MANY TOWNS.

Stalin, the chief of the Moscow Bolsheviks, is finding the Russian peasants too strong for him.

Despite his coercive measures they will not deliver to him the wheat which he requires to feed the towns.

As a consequence he has had to buy wheat in the international market as a means of averting a political upheaval. Town populations are rationed, and food riots have occurred in several places.

Pravda, the Soviet-controlled Moscow newspaper, stated on July 1st that "the extraordinary measures adopted by the Soviet Government to solve the problem of bread supplies" have failed to achieve the expected results and that the town population is already suffering.

There is an abundance of grain in Russia, particularly of wheat, but supplies do not and cannot reach the town population owing to the policy of the Government. Instead of dealing with the peasantry on a simple economic line, the Soviet have made every effort to make grain supplies "a political question of great importance," and the peasants, in spite of drastic measures against them, refuse to deliver their grain to the State.

Threats Ignored.

Neither the threat of confiscation nor exile, nor the actual penalties, have moved them. Their plea is always the same: "Give us manufactured goods and we will give you grain." But they plead in vain, since under the Soviets there are not enough manufactured goods to go round.

The peasants appear to have realised their strength and, according to Pravda, the boycott of the Soviet grain collectors has become "established."

This counter-revolutionary behaviour has produced unforeseen difficulties. The town population is rationed, and serious riots outside the State and co-operative stores are reported from many large cities and industrial centres. The available quantity of controlled wheat is diminishing, and unless supplies come from the outside famine must result.

Large quantities of wheat have also been used up by the peasants for the illicit distilling of vodka, and still larger quantities have been burnt on the rumours of the approach of a punitive force from Moscow.

By buying foreign wheat, Stalin hopes to save off a serious disturbance, which, under Russian conditions at the present time, might result in the overthrow of the Soviets.

200,000 Tons Bought.

Early in July Russia purchased 200,000 tons of wheat in London, Liverpool, Hull, Genoa, Marseilles, Rotterdam, and Hamburg, and this had the effect of sending up the price in Europe by 2s. 6d. a quarter in 24 hours.

A prominent wheat merchant said to a Daily Mail reporter:

There are such enormous reserves of wheat in North America that even big purchases would not affect the home supply.

FATHER GIVES HIS LIFE.
DOMESTIC QUARREL AND HIS CHILD'S FUTURE.

A father's sacrifice for the sake of his child was disclosed in a letter, extracts from which were read by Mr. Ingleby Oddie, the Westminster coroner, at an inquest on July 3rd on Mr. Hubert Cave, aged forty, a civil servant, who was found hanging at the Board of Education Offices, Whitehall.

It was stated that Mr. Cave was separated from his wife, but had the custody of his child.

Mr. Frederick Millman, a civil servant of Morland-road, Croydon, Mr. Cave's landlord, said that Mr. Cave was much affected by the separation from his wife, and had talked of suicide.

The coroner said that there was no doubt that Mr. Cave had been depressed and miserable, and had brooded over the separation from his wife. He wrote in a letter to the person who had the care of his child:

"No Hope."

"It now appears that there is no hope of Ethel (his wife) returning to me."

Then, after a reference to the child, he added:

There is no man that can take full charge of a child. I am compelled to leave out my responsibilities to another who has not the natural affection and sympathy for him which naturally a mother could have. If I have the courage to destroy myself Ethel can resume her charge of Dennis and at the same time be free to begin a new life.

Mr. Oddie added that the letter concluded:

Tell Ethel that the happiest years of my life were 1920 to 1926, and I thank her for them. Neither she nor I was much to blame for the events of the last eighteen months.

A verdict of "Suicide while of unsound mind" was recorded.

BETTER TIMES IN ULSTER.

TURN IN AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE.

NEW CHANNEL LINK.

BELFAST.

The gradual recovery in trade and commerce is, beyond question, manifest in Northern Ireland. Since this part of the United Kingdom has, against its own desires, assumed self-government under the British flag, and other issues have held the political stage, many people have been apt to forget the important part that this corner of the Empire plays in our mutual economy, and it is only when one comes here, talks to those at the helm of affairs, and sees the manifestations of many-sided activity, that one begins to realise its achievements, as well as its possibilities.

"We are not yet by any means on our feet, but we have certainly turned the corner," said a commercial authority to me. "Every slipway in one of our great shipbuilding yards is at present occupied." The increasing spending capacity of the people generally is stimulating the demand for Irish linen, and there is a decidedly better tone in agriculture. The great point about the cultivation of the soil is that, immediately the spending power of the people shows the slightest upward trend, the farmer begins to feel the benefit, and the effect is reflected in his own capacity to buy those necessities as well as those little luxuries which for three or four years have been denied him.

Agriculture and Transport.

A tour of Northern Ireland has completely confirmed this view of returning prosperity among the farming element, upon which the country so largely depends. Modest farmsteads, small holdings, and labourers' cottages over the six counties look remarkably trim and neat, showing not only that they are the object of much care and energy, but also that agriculture is producing the wherewithal to make them so.

To the important degree that efficient transport helps in stimulating trade and commerce, Northern Ireland—and Great Britain, too, for that matter—will warmly welcome the departure of the L.M.S. Railway which, on April 30th, inaugurates a new cross-channel service between Heysham and this port. After that date the old Belfast-Fleetwood service is to be discontinued, and the company is to concentrate upon the Heysham-Belfast link.

Three fast new steamers—the Duke of Lancaster, the Duke of Argyll, and the Duke of Rutland, each with a gross tonnage of 3,607—have been built for this service, and they show wonderful improvement upon anything which has yet served the two communities, either in the way of passenger or goods traffic. They are quite the last word in comfort, and will each accommodate 1,500 passengers (a special feature is the large number of single berths, totalling 141), 500 tons of cargo, and 200 cattle. It will now be possible to leave Belfast at 9.15 p.m., and to reach Euston at 11.10 the following morning.

Quick Despatch Of Cargoes.

Important as is the provision for personal comfort and convenience which these new steamers de luxe provide, a special welcome will be given to them by the trading community, for there is no doubt that with the institution of the new line the merchant and the manufacturer can be assured that their goods will be dealt with both carefully and expeditiously. Improved loading and unloading appliances, installed here as well as at Heysham, will afford facilities for quick despatch of cargo on a scale never before conceived, much less attempted, in cross-channel service.

No wonder, therefore, that at the luncheon given here in connection with the inaugural trip of the Duke of Lancaster the new departure was warmly welcomed by "among many others the Prime Minister (Lord Craigavon), the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, Sir William Coates and Mr. H. L. McCready, president of the Belfast Chamber of Commerce."

The enterprise and initiative of the L.M.S. marks, in fact, the beginning of a new era in commercial relations between Ulster and the Mother Country, and gives to the trading community here the confident hope that the improvement in business already observed will be proportionately stimulated.

WORLD MAP 2,628 YEARS OLD.

Map-making history is unfolded to the public at the Science Museum, South Kensington, S.W., in a special exhibition of cartography of the Empire, prepared in connection with the International Congress of Geography which meets in London next month.

Besides the finest examples of modern cartography, there are maps made by primitive races, sailing charts of the Marshall Islands (Pacific Ocean), relief maps in wood by Eskimos, a "world" map of 700 B.C., showing the belt of ocean surrounding a circular land area, and a number of medieval maps are included.

YOUTH'S WOMEN VICTIMS.

CHEQUES FOR LARGE SUMS.

"FATAL FASCINATION."

An amazing story of the career of Henry Anderson Conroy Irving Eustace, aged 22, who was charged with attempting to obtain nearly £7,000 from Mrs. M. B. Stirling, a widow, of Doncaster, was told at the Old Bailey.

The prosecution alleged that Eustace, posing as a wealthy young man, induced Mrs. Stirling, whose acquaintance he made at a London hotel, to give him four blank cheques which she had signed. He filled two up for £3,000 and £84, and telegraphed to her bank at Doncaster in her name asking for them to be honoured. They were not honoured, but two others for £50 and £30 were.

Eustace in the box said he did not obtain the cheques by false pretences, for he telegraphed, or attempted to convert to his own use the money for which the cheques were made out.

Hospital Meeting.

Mr. Percival Clarke, cross-examining: I may be too old for it to be of any service to me, but will you tell me wherein lies your fatal fascination? (Laughter)—I do not think there is such a thing.

Eustace was found guilty on all counts.

Mr. Clarke said that Eustace was the illegitimate son of a woman in a Cornish village. He was first a houseboy and then a waiter. He then went to Sidmouth as a waiter and met with a motor-cycle accident. When in hospital he met three benevolent elderly women, the Misses Cornish. On one of these he imposed to the tune of £10,000.

Miss Cornish was afterwards plaintiff in an action which resulted in judgment being obtained against Eustace. Failure to pay rendered him liable to be sent to prison for contempt of court.

His banking account showed £13,370 passing through it in about six weeks. It included two cheques for £7,000 and £10,500 drawn by Mrs. Lindsay White, a charming benevolent widow with family associations in Ceylon.

Eustace met her in the Royal Palace Hotel, Kensington. He told her that he was temporarily financially embarrassed, but that he could offer ample security, as he owned a house in Grosvenor-square, let to the Japanese Embassy.

£19,500 In Three Weeks.

As a result he got £19,500 from her without any security in less than three weeks.

Sir Henry Dickens: That should be a warning to wealthy women never to live alone in London hotels, especially if they are benevolent.

An action was brought in respect of this matter, said Mr. Clarke, and judgment obtained against Eustace. To avoid the inconvenience of having to go to prison unless he satisfied the other judgment, he told Mrs. Stirling a pack of lies and tried to get nearly £7,000 from her.

Detective-Sergeant Thomas mentioned another woman, a Mrs. Heath, whom Eustace had met in an hotel at Teignmouth in February 1927. He told her a wonderful story about his wealth and got about £1,500 from her.

About this time he bought a motor garage at Walton-on-Thames and lived in a neighbouring hotel in great style with a valet and a chauffeur and a motor-car.

A Practical Swindler.

Sir Henry Dickens, passing sentence, said Eustace's record for a youth of 22 was almost unbelievable.

"You are a thoroughly plausible young rogue," Sir Henry Dickens continued. "You are a practical swindler and a danger to society. You tried to defraud this woman, who took an interest in you, of many thousands of pounds. Luckily for her she had not enough money in the bank to meet the cheques."

"I shall give you a sentence which I hope will teach you a lesson and stop this record of crime and swindling. You will go to hard labour for 22 months."

GREENWICH BOYS IN FRANCE.

DEAUVILLE.

"I am very glad to meet the sons of so many British sailors and to see them on our French soil."

In these words Admiral Mouget, of the French Navy, addressed the hundred boys of the Royal Hospital School at Greenwich on a visit to France after church parade. Afterwards the boys placed on the Deauville war monument a wreath made in Earl Haig's work-shops.

They were inspected outside Deauville Station by the Marquis of Crewe, the retiring British Ambassador to France.

CAR COLLISION ON SHAUKIWAN HILL.

MR. R. H. B. HANCOCK AWARDED DAMAGES.

WHO IS TO PAY FOR REPAIRING THE WALL?

DEFENDANT ON WRONG SIDE OF THE ROAD.

Mr. Justice P. Jacks sitting in the Summary Court yesterday gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff, Mr. R. H. B. Hancock in the claim and counter-claim for damages incurred in a collision between two cars on the 2nd of May on the Shek O Road.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the case since Mr. Hancock is well known locally as an exchange broker and captain of Hong Kong's Interport Cricket Team. When the case first came up the Puisne Judge had given leave for the question of liability to be tried first and that of damages to be settled later.

Mr. H. C. Macnamara represented Mr. Hancock, and the defendant, Mr. Man Fook Yuen, the owner of the other car, was represented by Mr. C. A. S. Russ.

Mr. Hancock claimed on an unstated amount of damages, the figure not being available until spares arrive from England, while Mr. Man Fook Yuen counter-claimed for $1,000 damages. Both parties alleged that the other car was driving on the wrong side of the road.

Plaintiff's Story.

Mr. Hancock's story as told in Court is that he was driving on the day in question from Hong Kong to Shek O. Nearly at the top of the long winding ascent of Shauiwan hill, is a corner where the road bridges a nullah. Just as he reached this corner he saw the defendant's car approaching from the opposite direction on the wrong side of the road, he himself being well on the left side. Both cars were travelling at about 20 miles an hour. As soon as he saw the other car he put on his brakes, and the other car veered across the road to its proper side, but not soon enough to avert an accident. The off front wheel of his car came into contact with the off rear wheel of the defendant's car. In consequence Mr. Hancock's car skidded right across the road and crashed into a brick wall a good deal of which was knocked down.

A Dangerous Fall.

Mr. Macnamara commented that the occupants of the plaintiff's car, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hills and a chauffeur who were with Mr. Hancock, were fortunate in not being thrown over the wall as there was, he believed, "a large drop on to a rocky river bed."

Did Not Sound Horn.

Cross-examined by Mr. Russ, plaintiff said that his car was about five feet wide and the defendant's car the same. There was plenty of room for them to pass if they were on their proper sides. He admitted that he did not sound his horn and said he had not heard a horn sounded by the defendant's driver.

Mr. Russ: Isn't it the usual thing to sound your horn when going round a corner like this?

Plaintiff: That all depends, it is not a rule that the horn should be sounded before going round every corner. If that was so, every motor car driver in Hong Kong would be fined three times a day.

Witness said that he was not travelling at 25 miles an hour nor was the defendant's speed between 10 and 15 miles an hour.

"They Always Do."

If your car was going at a reasonable speed how was it that you ran into the wall?—Because I skidded.

And went into the wall at a considerable rate?—It is a very heavy car.

Isn't that an indication that you were going at a considerable speed?—None whatever.

Why should the defendant's chauffeur drive on the wrong side of the road?—Because they always do.

Then how is it that there are any left alive?—There should not be.

Passenger's Evidence.

Mr. Hills, who was in the rear of the plaintiff's car, said when he first saw the defendant's car he believed a collision to be inevitable as it was on the wrong side of the road; Mr. Hancock was on his proper side.

Amount Of Claim Not Stated.

Mr. Macnamara said that they had as yet been unable to get an estimate of the damage, and he understood that his Lordship was only deciding liability at this hearing. They had had to send to England for spare parts and the cost would be nearly $1,000. Labour alone was put down at $450.

Why Not A Ford?

Mr. Russ: I should have thought there would be spare parts in the Colony.

Mr. Macnamara: There are not. Mr. Russ: Then I would suggest that it is better to drive a Ford, for which you can get spare parts anywhere.

The defendant stated that his car was a Buick.

A Startling Sight.

Mr. C. A. S. Russ, for the defence, dealt at some length with the evidence which he said made the plaintiff's story hard to credit. His client's chauffeur was known as a careful driver and had never had an accident recorded against him. If he were in the habit of coming round corners on the wrong side of the road without sounding his horn he would hardly have had that five years' clean record.

Mr. Macnamara drew an amusing picture in reply of the effect on the startled populace if the defendant's chauffeur had been driving as he alleged at 10 miles an hour sounding his horn all the time. "People would have rushed out to see him doing it," he said. "He must be the only chauffeur who has done so at any time." He admitted that it was much more likely that both cars were making about 20 miles an hour.

The cause of the accident, said Mr. Macnamara, was that the defendant was on the wrong side of the road and swerved suddenly when he saw the other car approaching. As a result the wheels of the two cars came into contact and his client's car skidded on the greasy surface of the road, while the defendant's car stopped shortly owing to a damaged back axle.

And Costs.

Giving his decision his Lordship remarked that the evidence was very conflicting, and if both stories were true there could not have been an accident. Both Chinese and European drivers felt the same temptation to cut corners, but he believed the plaintiff's account to be the correct one and found that the defendant's driver was guilty of negligence.

Judgment was entered for the plaintiff on claim and counter-claim with costs, the question of damages to be referred to the Registrar, and for the cost of having another car while he was unable to use his own.

Damages To The Wall.

Mr. Macnamara raised the question of the damaged wall, saying "I understand that the cost of repairing the wall is being born by the public."

Mr. Russ: That surely is a matter for the P.W.D.

Mr. Macnamara said that no claim had been entered for the wall which had been rebuilt, and asked his Lordship to direct that any claim must be born by the defendant. His Lordship pointed out that if the P.W.D. put in a claim against Mr. Hancock he would have to inform them of the judgment of the Court and refer them to the defendant.

THE TATTOO.

ALTERATION OF DATES.

DECORATED MOTORCARS.

The work of preparation for the Grand Tattoo is going steadily forward. An immense programme such has been decided upon, in which nearly every section of the community is playing some part needs very careful adjustment and a great deal of organising by the Working Committee. The factor, however, which has necessitated postponing the dates from the first to the second week in September, the 11th, 12th and 13th, has been difficulties connected with the insurances which must be effected whenever Service men take part in a performance of this sort. This matter has now been settled and there is little fear of further postponement except possibly by the weather.

Prices Of Admission.

No definite decision has yet been reached about the prices to be charged for the various seats and stands, but an announcement is expected in the near future, since it is the intention of the committee to sell as many tickets as possible in advance. The plan of the seating accommodation will be shortly available and bureaux for advance booking will then be opened on both sides of the harbour.

Decorated Cars.

An interesting feature is being arranged by the Hong Kong Automobile Association for one of the three nights of the Grand Tattoo. The decorated motor-cars, which will drive in procession round the arena, will be judged in three classes: (1) Motor-cars or lorries of the trade class; (2) private motor-cars; (3) motor-cycles either solo or combination. It is said that many interesting and novel forms of decoration are being evolved by car-owners. The registration or entry fee is $1, and if sufficient interest is shown the Automobile Association will offer prizes to the value of $500. Anyone desiring to take part in this event should communicate with Mr. C. M. Manners, c/o The Hong Kong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co., Ltd.

Other Plans.

Details of the displays to be given by the Portuguese and Chinese communities have not been definitely arranged at the moment. The Portuguese community has signified its willingness to co-operate in the Grand Tattoo and a joint meeting of the Club Lusitano and the Club de Regatta is being held to decide on the nature of their event.

Lieut.-Col. Hayley Bell, D.S.O., has been appointed by the Working Committee to co-operate with the organisers of the civilian displays in the general arrangement of the various events.

Working Committee.

The following gentlemen are members of the Working Committee: H.E. Major-General C. C. Luard, C.B., C.M.G. (Chairman), Mr. R. Suhrland, O.B.E., and Lieut.-Col. L. J. Conyn, C.M.G., D.S.O. ## ROUND THE POLICE COURTS.

PORTUGUESE CAPTAIN CAUTIONED.

AT KOWLOON.

Captain J. dos Lemos, master of the s.s. Wing Ho, was summoned before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for landing cattle at the Sai Kung Wharf without a permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon.

Defendant said that he was unaware that a permit was necessary and produced a copy of the Port Regulations in which there was no rule prohibiting the landing of cattle. It was pointed out to the defendant that the offence was covered by a Sanitary Board bye-law. On his Worship being informed by the police that defendant was ashore on the day of the offence, he was discharged with a caution.

THE DURO GARAGE CASE.

The case against a former employee of the Duro Motor Garage who is alleged to have embezzled about $2,000 fell through when it came again before Mr. Schofield. In discharging the defendant, the Magistrate told the complainant, Mr. Curtis, that his remedy lay in the civil and not in the criminal Courts.

Mr. Hin Shing Lo, who defended, informed his Worship that his client's uncle had offered to pay $500 in settlement of the claim, but that the complainant was not satisfied.

DID IT ONCE TOO OFTEN.

A Chinese was charged before Mr. Schofield with obtaining money on two separate occasions from a pawnshop by false pretences and also with giving a false name and address.

The evidence was that the defendant took a gilt ring to a pawnshop and succeeded in obtaining $8 by representing that it was made of solid gold. Later he made another attempt with a similar article and obtained $8, but the trick was found out as the man was getting away. Defendant was arrested by the police.

Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was passed on the false pretences charge, and the defendant was fined $25, or a further six weeks, for giving a false name and address.

AT CENTRAL MAGISTRACY.

RICE THIEVES CONVICTED.

Two Chinese appeared before Mr. R. E. Lindsell on a charge of stealing 100 catties of rice from a shop in Amoy Street.

According to the prosecution, the two men ordered the rice which they asked to be carried to a sampan. The first defendant sailed away with the cargo promising that he would return soon with the money. The other man who remained with the shop folk then attempted to run away, but the foks caught him and handed him over to the police.

The first defendant was arrested two days later and a sum of $4.20 was found in his pocket. His Worship ordered the money to be returned to the complainant and sentenced each of the defendants to three weeks' hard labour. (Continued at foot of next column.)

CINEMA NEWS.

PRETTY MARION DAVIES.

CLARA BOW AND CHARLIE AT THE QUEEN'S ON SUNDAY.

An entertaining story, "The Red Mill," which is Marion Davies' latest production will be shown at 2.30, 5.10 and 7.15 performances in the Queen's Theatre from to-day to Saturday.

It is the tale of a little Dutch kitchen maid who is thrown into society and a strange love affair, she has weird adventures with ghosts in a haunted mill and upsets a whole Dutch Town, all for the love of a young tourist with a comical valet and a green necktie. Miss Davies plays the central character in pig-tails, cap and wooden shoes. Owen Moore plays the Irish lover, and Karl Dane, and George Seigmann, the villainous general of "Hotel Imperial" also have important parts to play.

At the 9.30 performance Long Tack Sam, the world famous magician, and his company of Chinese wonder workers will present their programme of magic, dancing and general fun.

The Girl With "It."

"It," the screen version of the popular novel by Elinor Glyn will be shown at the Queen's from Sunday to Tuesday next.

"It" is the story of a girl who raises herself from poverty to affluence by means of that peculiar power, "It," which wins her the attention of her wealthy employer who marries her. The romance and misunderstanding which follow, leading up to a thrilling yacht wreck and rescue far out on the ocean, are presented with considerable skill. Clara Bow and Antonio Moreno are the leading players.

Heaven At The World.

"Heaven On Earth" will be the chief picture in the continuous programme at the World from to-day to Saturday. The story deals with a youth whose life, since childhood, has been mapped out for him by his guardian. His career, his business and even his love affairs have all been planned, finally he rebels and joins a travelling gypsy show, falling in love with a gypsy maid. Conrad Nagel plays the part of the pampered youth and Renee Adoree appears as the beautiful gypsy girl.

At The Star.

Norma Shearer is the star of "After Midnight," which opens a three-day season to-day at the Star Theatre. In this picture, Norma is a night club cigarette girl in love with a thief. By her quiet dignity, aloofness and simplicity of dress, she stands out in contrast to the background of tinsel and gold. The story itself is unusual since it starts and ends in poverty.

DAGGER BROUGHT FROM JAPA.

Sentence of six months' hard labour was passed by Major C. Willson on a Chinese for unlawful possession of a dagger. The defendant stated that he brought the dagger with him from Java, but it was pointed out by the police that the man was arrested on board a "Star" Ferry boat after his arrival from Canton.

KWANGTUNG ANGER WITH NANKING.*COUNTENANCING THE EXTREMISTS.

CHEN MING SHU RETURNING TO CANTON.

BOYCOTT COMMITTEE ACTIVE.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, August 1st.

In view of the decision to allow the extremist members of the Kuomintang to attend the 5th Plenary Session at Nanking, the Canton Municipal Kuomintang, at a meeting held yesterday morning, decided to send a telegram to the Party authorities at the capital, urging them to cancel this permission. The telegram has already been despatched to Nanking and stated that Kwangtung is solidly united in opposing the admittance of Wang Ching Wei, Chen Kung-Jok, Kan Nai Kuang, Koo Mang Yu, and other extremist members of the Party to the deliberations of the Session. "The Municipal Kuomintang," it added, "is in receipt of innumerable telegrams from every part of the Province where there is a branch Kuomintang, uncompromisingly condemning the activities of these people. They are the cat's paws of the Communist Party and were directly responsible for the Communist holocaust of December 11th last in Canton."

Continuing, the telegram urged the Party authorities at Nanking to give due consideration to the wishes of the people of Kwangtung and acquiesce in this demand for strong action. "Unless this step is taken in time, there will be no way of maintaining order and harmony within the Party," the telegram concludes.

GENERAL CHEN MING SHU EXPECTED NEXT WEEK.

General Chen Ming Shu, Commander of the 11th Army and Rehabilitation Commissioner of the Southern Region of Kwangtung, has finally decided to come to Canton, according to information from military circles. The General will leave the Island of Hainan, on the 4th of August and will probably reach Canton about next Tuesday. In a telegram despatched to the military authorities here, he stated that he had wanted to come to Canton for some time but has not been able to on account of the pressure of work on the rehabilitation of the southern part of the Province. He is now holding a conference with his colleagues in Hainan, respecting reconstruction in the Island of Hainan. The conference will last until August 2nd, when he will be free to attend to other work. It will be remembered that Marshal Li Tsai Hsin, prior to his departure for the North, telegraphed him to come to Canton to act as the Chairman of the Provincial Council until the Marshal returned. As General Chen was unable to come, the chairmanship was turned over to Mr. Fung Cho Man, Commissioner of Finance.

BOYCOTT COMMITTEE RESISTED.

The boycott against Japanese goods is being prosecuted with fresh vigour in Canton. The period for the registration of all unsold Japanese goods still in the hands of the mercantile, started last Saturday morning and was supposed to have finished last night, but is to be postponed. This is because the work could not be finished within three days as was first announced by the Committee on the Severance of Economic Relations with Japan. Every shop in the city desaling in Japanese goods is being systematically investigated by officers of the Committee. Most of the merchants, especially the smaller ones, have allowed their shops to be searched and their Japanese goods registered. But some strongly objected to this action of the Committee and a few went so far as to refuse to admit the inspectors to their premises, declaring that they had no right to register their goods whether they are Japanese or not. These "recalcitrants," the inspectors branded as "unpatriotic reactionaries." Their names have been posted in front of their establishments and published in all the vernacular papers for public condemnation.

RIGHTEOUS YOUTH BY ORDER.

NO DRINKING OR SMOKING UNDER TWENTY.

NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT ORDER.

The Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Nationalist Government has forwarded to Canton a set of rules for the prohibition of smoking and drinking by minors of both sexes, and the Provincial Government has issued instructions to all governmental organisations ordering that these rules be enforced.

The rules are as follows:—
1.—Persons, both male and female, who have not attained the age of twenty shall not be allowed to smoke, tobacco, cigars or cigarettes, nor drink intoxicating liquor. Exception is made in the case of those who are recommended to drink wine under medical advice.

2.—Persons violating the above rule shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five dollars for each offence. This rule shall not apply to minors below the age of thirteen years, but in such cases the parents or guardians shall be responsible for the correction of such pernicious habits. All wine, tobacco, or smoking equipment found in the possession of minors shall be confiscated.

3.—Parents or guardians who knowingly permit minors under their care to indulge in these habits, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding five dollars.

4.—Persons found guilty of selling wine or tobacco or equipment to minors, knowing that such goods will be used by the minors themselves, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

5.—The Bureau of Safety, Magistrates or Elders in all towns and villages shall be responsible for the enforcement of these rules.—Canton Gazette.

TRACTOR PLOUGH FOR CANTON.*UNIVERSITY'S PURCHASE.

It is reported that the Department of Agriculture of the Chung Shan University have decided to purchase a modern tractor to aid in the cultivation of a big tract of land that was recently given them by the Government.

In view of the importance of agriculture to the welfare of the people, and since Chung Shan University has a Department of Agriculture, the Government some time ago gave to this department a huge tract of virgin land, so that experiments and practical demonstrations could be given in support of the principle expounded in lectures. The Department of Agriculture plans to cultivate a section about five hundred acres in extent, during the next three months. This acreage would require an enormous amount of manual labour to cultivate, so a tractor is to be purchased.—Canton Gazette.

KIANGSU'S CAPITAL.

NANKING, July 10th.

Pursuant to a decision of the Kiangsu Provincial Government to remove the seat of the Provincial Capital within one month from Nanking to Chinkiang, a sum of $100,000 was appropriated for expenses of transfer to the city of Chinkiang, at the 91st meeting of the Provincial Government yesterday. The Provincial Reconstruction Department has been instructed to submit a plan for the necessary expenses of transfer and repairs.

It was also decided that a sum of $200,000 be appropriated for the suppression of bandits and Communists in accordance with a request from General Chien Ta Chun, Commander of the Shanghai and Woosung Gendarmerie. The meeting also decided to remove the ban on grain transportation to the North, which has been in force during the past year.—Kuo Min News Agency.

SINGAPORE VOLUNTEERS.*NEW UNIT FOR INDIANS AND CEYLONESE.

AFTERNOON BAND CONCERTS.

EXPERIMENT IN THE BOTANIC GARDENS.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE OF $1,000.

MEETING OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

"At the meeting of the Finance Committee, which will be held immediately following the Legislative Council this (Thursday) afternoon a number of interesting financial votes will be submitted for approval. The total sum required is $147,508.

It is proposed to give a few afternoon concerts in the Botanic Gardens as an experiment to see whether the appreciation shown by the public would warrant future arrangements for the provision of music in the gardens. A supplementary vote of $1,000 is requested for this purpose.

JUNIOR CLERICAL SERVICE.

The amount of $621,967 provided in the estimates of 1928 for the salaries of the junior clerical service is proving insufficient owing to the necessity to increase the establishment of clerks in several Government Offices beyond the strength for which provision was made.

While additions to strength are as a rule made by recruitment to the lowest grade it has been necessary in some cases to increase the numbers of higher posts in view of increased responsibilities, and the Subordinate Staff Board has recommended a number of extra promotions to Class 5 and to the special class.

To meet the requirements a further sum of $9,250 is asked for.

WIRELESS.

The scheme for improving the Colony's wireless telegraphy service, which was submitted to the Finance Committee on April 19th this year and informally approved has been found to require modification. Cape D'Aguilar Wireless Station has proved unsuitable for short wave transmission to Canton, and in place of the contemplated extensions to that station, it is proposed to erect a station at the Peak as transmission from the experimental station in "The Eyrie" has been found to be satisfactory.

It will be necessary to erect two one-hundred-foot masts instead of one two-hundred-foot mast as at D'Aguilar and also a new building thereby increasing the estimated expenditure for this year from $68,720 to $91,440.

It is further proposed to extend this Peak Station, as experience dictates, with a view to the centralisation there of all transmitters. This, if carried out, will involve an additional expenditure in due course of $70,250 but it is expected that this will be balanced by increased revenue and decreased working costs.

The amount which it is proposed to include in the 1929 estimates is $168,700.

WATER METERS IN KOWLOON.

A sum of $15,000 was included in the 1928 estimates to cover the cost of supplying and fixing new water meters in Kowloon, but this amount has been practically exhausted. There are some 300 applications for meters outstanding and further applications are received almost daily and a further vote of $15,000 is required to meet the needs.

It is pointed out that the meters produce revenue. Up to date this year 375 meters have been fixed and the extra $15,000 requested will permit of another 300 being supplied.

During 1928 the number of meters fixed was 506 and last year, 582. The revenue from excess consumption of water in Kowloon was $98,934 in 1928 and $163,469 in 1927. For the first quarter of this year the revenue from excess consumption was $41,640 as compared with $28,700 in the first quarter last year and $17,147 in the first quarter of 1926.

OTHER ITEMS.

Other items on the Finance Committee agenda include $3,351 for the purchase by Government of land at Ho Sheung Heung, Northern District, New Territories. An offer has been made by the executors of the owner (deceased) to sell to Government, at the Government's option, a plot of land of 17 acres of land. It is considered desirable to accept the offer, the land to be used for exchange in the place of cash payments in future resumptions.

The Fire Brigade requires $480 to pay rent at the rate of $60 a month for a room in the Y.M.C.A., Kowloon, to house a European Sub-Officer from Kowloon Fire Station as no accommodation is available in the Station.

FULMINATING BERIC.

COOLIE'S DEATH AT TUNG WAH HOSPITAL.

DR. G. H. THOMAS SUPPORTS HERBALIST'S VIEW.

On the recommendation of the Coroner at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, the jury without retiring returned a verdict of death from natural causes in respect of the death of a Chinese coolie at the Tung Wah Hospital following a motor car accident last April.

The deceased was knocked down near the Pump Station on the Pokfulam Road on April 5th and after treatment at the Government Civil Hospital for some five weeks he expressed a wish to receive Chinese Herbal treatment at the Tung Wah Hospital to which he was accordingly transferred. The deceased had sustained a fractured leg but after a further three weeks' under Chinese treatment the patient was able to get up and walk. He died suddenly on July 7th at about midnight after a brief but violent attack of illness. Following a post mortem examination the cause of death was reported as primary fracture and blood poisoning.

At the previous hearing the Chinese Herbalist who attended the deceased at the Tung Wah Hospital said that the deceased had not died from effects of the original fracture but from what he diagnosed as natural causes. The Chinese practitioner also suggested that the deceased had died from beri-beri and that the direct cause was heart failure.

The Coroner then suggested that the Chinese Herbalist and Dr. F. W. Kirk, should hold a consultation with Dr. G. H. Thomas, formerly of the Tung Wah Hospital, whose wide knowledge and experience of cases at that Hospital would help the jury to arrive at their verdict.

Dr. Thomas, said that he had been associated with the Tung Wah Hospital for some sixteen years, during which time he had known four or five such cases on an average every year.

Witness upheld the views of the Chinese Herbalist that the deceased had died from natural causes, and said that he had formed this opinion from the symptoms described by the Chinese practitioner which suggested "fulminating beri-beri."

The Coroner, who had previously remarked that he would be ready to accept Dr. Thomas's decision following the consultation recommended this verdict to the jury who returned a verdict of death from natural causes. The driver of the car was acquitted of all responsibility.

The Police need $1,000 for an open air revolver range. An Indian shore guards formerly practised revolver shooting at a range at Sookunpoo. With the extension of building development in that district, this range had to be closed and was included in the site for the Eastern District Tung Wah Hospital. The vote now requested is to meet the cost of forming an open air revolver range (butts, targets, etc.) at Kennedy Town over the old water service tank—to take the place of the one closed at Sookunpoo. There are 600 Indian guards being trained in the use of revolvers.

The P.W.D. are asking for $10,000 to cover expenditure in miscellaneous works, extraordinary, to the end of the year. Owing, it is stated, to the number of items approved as proper charges under this heading it is necessary to supplement the vote in the estimates by $10,000. The amount was reduced for this year owing to the need for economy but the increase the revenue makes an increased provision possible.

A sum of $300 is needed in the District Office, North, to meet additional expenditure incurred by an officer doing double duty. During the absence on long leave of the Senior Land Bailiff the Junior Land Bailiff who acted in his stead was required at the same time to perform the duties of his own office for a period of nine months. It is proposed to grant him a bonus of $300 in respect of overtime.

The Chinese Medical Officer for the New Territories, it is pleasant to be able to record, has obtained a motor car thereby increasing his usefulness. The provision of a garage for the car is necessary, and the sum of $24 (six months' rent) is requested to be voted for this purpose pending the provision of a Government Garage.

The Colonial Secretary's Office needs $15,000 for steel filing cabinets. The transfer of the Office records (dating from 1840) to temporary quarters during the reconstruction of the office drew attention to the dilapidated condition of the old wooden filing cabinets. It is proposed to provide modern steel filing cabinets for the furnishing of the reconstructed offices in place of attempting to repair and re-use the old wooden cabinets.

BRITISH BANK ON CHINESE SOIL.

INSTONE BANKING CORPORATION IMPASSE.

REFUSAL TO REGISTER AS CHINESE CONCERN.

The impasse created by the action of the Canton Police in closing the two branches of the Instone Banking Corporation at Shekki and Canton respectively on the ground that they had not been registered as a Chinese company remains unchanged. The Police have sealed up the vaults of the two branches, the Directors maintain that they will not register as a Chinese concern, while neither the British nor the American Consuls can accept them as foreign firms. To be able to up to at least fifty per cent of the capital of the institution concerned must belong to nationals of the State with whose Consular registration is sought.

Responsibility To Hong Kong Courts.

"One thing is certain," said Mr. Brewer, "we shall not register as a Chinese concern. We have had plenty of precedents of Canton Governments making whatever levy they thought fit upon banks registered in the City. One institution had to pay $1,000,000. I am responsible, as President of a company registered in Hong Kong, to the Supreme Court here for the shareholders' money. We are quite willing either to leave Chinese territory altogether or to operate as a British firm, but we cannot carry on under Chinese registration. What we want to do now is to have a reliable liquidator appointed and to pay back our depositors, which we are in a position to do having actually got all or practically all the cash needed, in the two branches concerned. We hope that the British Consul will be able to arrange this."

"And if not, Mr. Brewer?" "Then the money remains where it is, and if depositors complain we shall have to refer them to the Canton Government. It is hard on them, but at least their money is safe."

"Are you thinking of altering your constitution, or appealing for more capital either British or American in order to qualify for registration with one or other Consul?" "No, we are not anxious to do that. Our share list is closed and we don't want more capital at present."

Asked if the Corporation thought of opening a branch in Shanghai, Mr. Brewer agreed that this was a possibility, but it had not yet been explored and in case would take some time to accomplish.

THE BRITISH RAILWAY CRISIS.

THE serious crisis with which the British railways are confronted shows the danger of resting on past achievement and disregarding what at first appeared to be humble and rather vulgar rivalry. The railway trade unions have assented without a struggle to a cut in wages of 2 1/2 per cent. and Mr. J. H. THOMAS recently warned the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen that the situation was "more serious than is generally known."

The British railway system sprang up in the middle of last century and was created on a splendid scale. No expense was spared in bridging rivers and driving tunnels and cuttings through hilly country. It was done on a solid and a permanent basis. As long as most of us can remember, however, railway travelling in Great Britain has hardly changed. Some of the engines that as children we hoped one day to drive are still in service. The great expresses leave the termini at the same hour each day and maintain the speed of close upon a mile a minute that was achieved in the sixties. Anything better has not been considered necessary. The big towns of England are still dependent upon the train service for the enormous supplies of fresh provisions drawn from the countryside and from abroad via the ports and through a series of strikes showed that the work could be done temporarily and at great expense by road transport railways still play an essential part in the life of the country.

But for all these magnificent qualities of safety and efficiency on the main services there have been weak places and, as often happens where a monopoly is concerned, no very vigorous effort was made to effect improvements. Apart from a few of the main routes third class travelling is often uncomfortable. Again, as soon as the main lines are left behind the traveller is frequently plunged into an abyss of unpunctuality, slowness and disregard for connections that make "cross country" travelling a nightmare. The President of the N.U.R., not without some reason has laid the blame for the present crisis largely upon the lack of foresight shown by the railway directorates.

These for the main part consist of very distinguished men who did their best work during the last century and received their knight-hoods and peerages at the Diamond Jubilee or at the Coronation of King Edward VII. They have not considered it necessary to launch out or to make improvements for which there seemed very little chance of a proportionate return for expenditure. But that was not the spirit which created the railways and it has not been enough to keep them ahead of possible competition. The motor car long ago began to reduce the returns from first class passenger traffic. That was ignored. Then the car-banc began to take the excursionists. But excursion traffic was not regarded as sufficiently profitable to justify a fight. Then the bus companies began to run regular services, both to places without railway stations and also as a direct alternative to trains. In spite of the speed limit handicap, it was often quicker to get between places by bus than by train when a railway journey involved changes with a wait for a connection. The Sunday railway traffic has been especially hit and when it is remembered how uncomfortable and inconvenient Sunday travelling often proved, this is certainly no cause for wonder.

The railways have now acquired powers to supplement their services by road transport. Unfortunately for them the motor bus companies are already in the field and it will need considerable enterprise and ingenuity to recover the lost business. Britain's railways admittedly are still the backbone of the transport system, and, indeed, of the nation's industrial life, but the old high handed and aloof attitude of directorates will have to be modified. It is a pity that at least one of the leading companies does not pay off its most respectable veteran and get Mr. J. H. THOMAS in his place.

WOMAN IN THE CASE?

BLOWS BETWEEN FIREMAN AND POLICEMAN.

A WEST STREET RUMPUS.

Three Chinese members of the Fire Brigade and a lifeman appeared before Major C. Willson at the Central Magistracy on a charge of assaulting Chinese constable C.497 and obstructing him in the execution of his duty.

Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for the defence.

The Chinese constable said that he was on duty on the night of July 28th when he heard a police whistle from No. 9, West Street. He followed the direction of the sound which led him to the rear subside of the premises. There he saw four men and a girl. The "girl" complained to him that one of the men, named Chan Sam, had assaulted her. This man was not in Court. Witness told the men to come to the Police Station but they refused saying that they were Government servants. When he attempted to go with the girl to the Police Station, he was set upon by the defendants who struck him on the chin knocking him unconscious, but before this happened witness blew his police whistle and two other Chinese constables appeared. Later a European sergeant also arrived and they took the men to the Police Station.

Mr. Lo in a short address remarked to his Worship that the defence was that the witness was not at the scene but the sounds of a police whistle but that he had either seen the girl, who was his "sweetheart," go inside the premises or was told where she was.

The constable went straight to the subside and he told the girl to leave Chan Sam. Words followed and he struck Chan Sam. The other defendants who were present did not join in the assault but tried to separate the two men.

Mr. Lo put this allegation to the witness who denied that he knew the woman or Chan Sam. He was attracted by the police whistle.

Mr. Lo: Did you not say to Chan Sam, "You know me and this woman is my girl?" "I did not say that."

Mr. Lo: Did not the first defendant try to separate you and Chan Sam? "No."

Medical evidence was also given of the minor bruises sustained by the witness.

Seven Men In The Cubicle.

Lin Yenk, the girl in question said that she was called to the premises, and on arriving found seven men in the cubicle. Chan Sam with whom she had already had differences got angry, and assaulted her and she blew her police whistle and shouted. The constable appeared and was assaulted by the four defendants. It was not until the European Sergeant appeared that they were released. Chan Sam ran away before the latter appeared.

Mr. Lo then remarked to the Magistrate that the premises were used as a ely brothel and that the whole affair arose out of a row between Chan Sam and complainant over the girl who had given evidence.

The Magistrate then adjourned the hearing until Wednesday next and remarked that it was regrettable that an incident of this nature should arise between the Police and the Fire Brigade.

BROKERS AND PRINCIPALS.

IMPORTANT SINGAPORE COURT DECISION.

SINGAPORE, July 24th. A judgment of considerable importance to the mercantile community was given by the Acting Chief Justice (Mr. Justice Spruce) in an action in which Lam Choon & Co. sued Messrs. Green and Collier for $21,000 for breach of warranty.

The circumstances were that Messrs. Green and Collier, a firm of non-guarantee rubber brokers, entered into a written contract with the plaintiffs on behalf of the principal named therein, Lim Yam Hong, for the purchase of fifteen tons of the plaintiffs' rubber. The named principal repudiated and never confirmed the contract. The plaintiffs thereupon sued the named principal, but Sir William J. Murray gave judgment against them. Plaintiffs then appealed to the Singapore Court of Appeal and were successful, but on the case going to the Privy Council the Court of Appeal decision was reversed.

The plaintiffs then sued Messrs. Green and Collier for their full loss on the contract with the principal on whose behalf Messrs. Green and Collier had purported to act and for all their costs in the litigation against the principal.

When the case was tried before the Acting Chief Justice the defendants, among other defences, sought to prove a general custom in Singapore that non-guarantee brokers who have named their principal and who have entered into a written contract in his name are not liable for damages if it turns out either that they had no such principal or that such principal repudiates before confirming. (Continued at foot of next column.)

SUPREME COURT OFFICER RETIRES.

PROMINENT MEMBER OF INDIAN COMMUNITY.

ENTERTAINED YESTERDAY BY FELLOW-COUNTRYMEN.

Mr. Khawas Khan, probate clerk and interpreter of the Supreme Court was entertained by his fellow countrymen at a farewell tea party given at the Savoy Hotel yesterday afternoon. After eighteen years with the Civil Service of the Colony Mr. Khawas Khan now retires on pension and leaves this afternoon by the a.s. Talca for India. Two other farewell parties had already been given in honour of Mr. Khan by the members of the Indian Community and Police Department. A large number of Mr. Khan's friends were present at the tea party yesterday and Mr. Bishen Singh who presided presented Mr. Khan, on behalf of the Community, with a pair of jade and gold cuff links. In doing so Mr. Bishen Singh spoke of the affection and respect with which Mr. Khan had been regarded by his friends in Hong Kong. The regret occasioned by his departure was lessened by the thought that he would be returning to his Mother Land for the remainder of his days. Mr. Bishen Singh spoke of Mr. Khan's fine service record during his eighteen years as probate clerk and interpreter at the Supreme Court. Mr. Khan also held the post of Inspector of the Hong Kong Police Reservists, and during the strike he joined the Police Reserves as Sergeant Major.

Mr. Khan Replies.

Mr. Khan thanked those present for the gift which they had given him. It was difficult he continued to express appreciation of the honour they had done him, but he was pleased to have this opportunity of saying good-bye to his many colleagues and countrymen in the Colony.

A brother of Mr. Khan is a member of the Harbour Office staff and other brothers have done extremely well. One of them holds the position of district Magistrate in India, while another was given the rank of Captain and served on the staff of General Allenby during the War.

"ORIENTAL NIGHT" AT QUEEN'S THEATRE.

LONG TACK SAM AND HIS TWO DAUGHTERS.

"THE BLACK BOTTOM."

It was a real "Oriental Night" at the Queen's Theatre yesterday evening. The curtain was raised at 8.30 p.m. and instead of the usual stage decoration, the audience saw a weird and true representation of things Chinese. Just behind the screen were Long Tack Sam, his two talented daughters, and the other members of a very clever troupe. They started the ball rolling with all the bang and clang so true to Chinese life.

Long Tack Sam, quite unlike Ching Ling Foo, does certainly please his audience, and although it was rather incongruous to see a Chinese dressed in the style of about two centuries ago, but minus his queue and the red tasseled hat, yet Long has the real Oriental touch which at once won the hearts of the audience.

The magic and acrobatic stunts performed by Long and his troupe were not however very extraordinary. Some of the tricks certainly did amuse a portion of the audience, but anyone who has been out in China for some years, would agree that the juggling though good was of a kind that is fairly common in the Far East. However his tricks were pretty amazing and all of them were neatly done.

It was, however, the two Misses Long who scored the biggest hits of the evening. Nee Sa Long has remarkable talent as a violinist and the number in which she accompanied herself while dancing brought down the house. Mi Na Long is a too dancer of very fine ability and was heartily applauded.

The most popular item on the programme was the "Black Bottom" dance by Miss Nee Sa Long. People in Hong Kong have been learning this dance for quite a while, and they have never come across an exponent like Miss Nee Sa.

Miss Nee Sa and her sister are accomplished artists, and the song "Lonesome To-Night," sung by Miss Nee Sa showed that she possesses a very pleasing voice.

There was a very good house and people should make a special point of coming to a really good "variety" show which will be put on each evening at 9.15 for the rest of the week.

The contract—in other words, that non-guarantee brokers do not warrant their authority, as it is called in law. This morning the Acting Chief Justice gave judgment for the full amount claimed in a written judgment.—Straits Times.

AMERICA REFUSES TO GO FURTHER.

COST OF FITTING NANKING AS CAPITAL.

OFFICIAL JAPANESE NOTE SENT TO CHINA.

FIFTH PLENARY SESSION OPENS.

The official Japanese Note has now been communicated to Nanking, while a copy has been handed to the Nationalist representative in Tokyo. The Note will not be immediately issued for publication.

The Fifth Plenary Session has so far held only an informal meeting for the interchange of views, as a large number of the members of the Central Executive Council have not yet arrived. More important subjects for discussion will be dealt with in the second meeting, but the conference will not go into full session until August 4th.

Hankow is a disappointed city. Every preparation had been made for a splendid reception of Feng Yu Hsiang, Li Tsai Hsin, Li Tsung Jen and Yen Hsi Shan, who were supposed to pass through Hankow on their way to Nanking. However, at the last minute they decided to proceed by another route, and Hankow was deprived of the honour of entertaining these Nationalist leaders. Later the three first mentioned arrived at Nanking, but Yen Hsi Shan is detained with appendicitis.

Mr. C. T. Wang, the Nationalist Foreign Minister, has cabled to Mr. Kellogg urging him to settle all questions needing immediate solution. Though urged by many newspapers to renounce extraterritoriality and so forestall Britain, Mr. Kellogg considers that this question is on a different footing from the tariff treaty, and that China must first install an adequate system of legal administration.

A DIFFERENT QUESTION.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1st. Mr. C. T. Wang has cabled from Nanking requesting Mr. Kellogg to follow up the Customs treaty by the negotiation of a "proper settlement of all questions needing immediate solution."

Many newspapers are urging Mr. Kellogg to consent to the immediate renunciation of extraterritoriality, and thereby to forestall Great Britain, but Mr. Kellogg is disposed to follow Sir Austen Chamberlain's cautious and watchful policy.

It is authoritatively emphasised that the question of extraterritoriality is on a different footing from the tariff treaty, and the adoption of an adequate and modern system of legal administration must precede the abandonment of extraterritorial privileges.

AMERICAN MONEY FOR CHINA.

MR. SUN FO'S AIM.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

NEW YORK, July 31st. Mr. Sun Fo, the Nationalist Minister for Reconstruction, interviewed on his arrival in New York from Europe, said he had come to the United States to pave the way for co-operation with American finance and industrial organisation in the reconstruction of China.

HANKOW DISAPPOINTED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

HANKOW, Aug. 1st. Despite the most extensive preparations to welcome them, a telegram has been received from Feng Yu Hsiang, Li Tsai Hsin and Li Tsung Jen stating that they are not proceeding via Hankow to Nanking, while Yen Hsi Shan is unable to accompany the party owing to illness.

The local Chinese officials are most disappointed at missing the unique opportunity of entertaining this quartette of Nationalist leaders.

LEADERS ARRIVE.

(Wah Tsz Yat Pao.)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1st. Li Tsai Hsin, Li Tsung Jen, Tai Chi Tao and later Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang arrived at Huaihou yesterday afternoon. On the same evening they started for Nanking where they received an effusive welcome.

SESSION OPENS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NANKING, Aug. 1st. The first preliminary meeting of the Fifth Plenary Session was held this afternoon. Twenty-four members of the Central Executive Council were present.

No ceremony was observed and the afternoon was devoted to an exchange of views. The second preliminary meeting is being held to-morrow when several more important proposals will be brought up and explained by the proposers.

JAPAN'S BALANCE OF POWER.

A NEW PARTY.

POLICY TOWARDS CHINA.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TOKYO, Aug. 1st.

Mr. Takejiro Tokonami has issued a manifesto emphasising the four big problems confronting Japan, namely, China policy, control of radical propaganda, the financial situation and the removal of the gold embargo. He states that these are too serious to be solved under the existing unstable political situation, which is due to the presence of two evenly balanced parties.

Mr. Takejiro Tokonami has resigned the advisership of the Minseito, and has declared his intention of forming a new party for the purpose of breaking up the balance of power.

Though the possibility of secession was rumoured previously, Mr. Tokonami's action at the present moment has come as a complete surprise and is expected to have far-reaching results as a large number of his followers are expected to secede to the new party and support the Seiyukai. This will run the chance of the Minseito of overthrowing and succeeding the Tanaka Cabinet.

Not only will the continuance of the present Government be thereby virtually assured, but also the Government is expected to receive the support of the new party in carrying out its Chinese policy. One of Mr. Tokonami's main reasons for seceding from the Minseito is stated to be his disapproval of their stand against Baron Tanaka's policy towards China.

Amongst the points emphasised in the manifesto are the necessity of maintaining the closest possible relations with China, the absence of territorial ambitions and the necessity of protecting Japan's vital interests in Manchuria.

Secondly, the prevention of the spread of radical ideas and movements, though the manifesto disapproves of ultra-conservatism.

Thirdly, equal opportunity in education for the purpose of checking class warfare.

Fourthly, the drastic cut of State expenditure and the early lifting of the gold embargo.

AIRMEN'S MISHAPS AT BAGDAD.

POLISH ATTEMPT ENDS IN DISASTER.

FRENCH VISITORS IN SAND STORM.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BAGDAD, July 31st. Two aviation disasters occurred yesterday, one resulting in the death of a Polish lieutenant engaged in a long non-stop flight.

The flight which ended tragically was an ambitious attempt at a non-stop flight from Warsaw to Bagdad and Cairo and thence back to Warsaw. It was being undertaken by the Polish Lieutenant Kalina as pilot, with Lieutenant Czalas as observer, on a Fokker monoplane fitted with three Wright Whirlwind engines.

The roar of the engines, at the conclusion of the non-stop flight from Warsaw was heard in Bagdad at two o'clock in the morning. Flares were lit at the R.A.F. Aerodrome at Hinaidi, but the pilot landed until dawn.

At five o'clock, the machine crashed into the Aerodrome's flood-protection bank, with the result that Lieut. Czalas was killed, whilst Lieut. Kalina and a mechanic were slightly injured.

The second mishap occurred when a party of French officers in three aeroplanes, who were flying from Syria on a courtesy visit to the 56th Squadron of the R.A.F. at Bagdad, encountered a dense sand storm.

Two of the machines crashed when landing, but the aviators were not injured. But third machine arrived safely.

Later, the R.A.F. located the stranded party and salvaged the engines, the Frenchmen having burned their damaged machines.

His Majesty the King has approved the nomination of the Right Rev. William Temple, Bishop of Manchester, to the Archbishopric of York, in succession to the Right Rev. Dr. Cosmo Lang, who has been elevated to the Archbishopric of Canterbury.

PLANNING A NEW LONDON.

CHARING CROSS BRIDGE.

ANOTHER EMBANKMENT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, August 1st.

The greatest London improvement scheme in the history of the London County Council has finally been adopted by this body. It comprises the construction of a new Charing Cross Bridge, the removal of Charing Cross Railway terminus to the south side of the Thames, the construction of an imposing Embankment on the south side and the reconstruction and widening of Waterloo Bridge.

The total cost will be approximately £12,000,000. The scheme, which in various forms has been under discussion for twenty years, now only needs the acquiescence of the Southern Railway.

NAVAL EXPERTS IN CONFERENCE.

ANGLO-FRENCH AGREEMENT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

PARIS, July 31st.

A communique issued from the Quai d'Orsay explains that owing to differences among the disarmament Preparatory Committee, in order to enable the Committee to continue its work, France and England have agreed on a compromise formula, which safeguards French naval interests, and which both Governments hope will be accepted by the other naval Powers.

London, July 31st. Reuter learns that the Anglo-French Agreement, to which Sir Austen Chamberlain referred in the House of Commons yesterday, is the outcome of discussions which took place between British and French naval experts last Spring.

These discussions related to the draft Conventions which Britain and France respectively presented to the Geneva Naval Conference in 1926 and which they have since attempted at various times to coalesce into a single text.

It is hoped that the formula now agreed to may be acceptable to the Preparatory Disarmament Committee, and thus hasten the convocation of the Disarmament Conference.

The number of persons migrating within the British Empire who were granted free or assisted passages was 47,892.

155 INJURED IN RIOT.

OUTBREAK BY STUDENTS.

NO SHOTS FIRED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BANGALORE, August 1st.

A students' riot over the place the Government had assigned for the idol which the students worshipped has resulted in 125 of the general public and 30 of the military being injured.

Troops dispersed the unruly mob from the Government offices, but later the malcontents, at the head of a mob of ten thousand, made a demonstration before the house of a leading Mohammedan.

An official communique denies that shots were fired and says that the casualties occurred in dispersing the rowdies.

PILGRIMAGE TO THE BATTLEFIELDS.

THE BRITISH LEGION.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT MENIN GATE.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, July 31st.

A great pilgrimage to the Battlefields of Northern France, organised by the British Legion, will start from London about midnight next Saturday, the fourteenth anniversary of Britain's entry into the Great War.

The pilgrims, who will number 11,000, will be joined on the other side of the Channel by the Prince of Wales, who served in France with the Guards, Lady Haig, widow of the Commander who led the British Army to victory, and many distinguished officers, including Marshal Foch and Admiral Lord Jellicoe.

Twenty special trains will convey the huge party from London to Channel ports, where twelve steamers will be waiting to take them to France. They will then travel in special trains to various points on the old battle front.

They will stay four days, and the culminating event of the visit will be a solemn ceremony at Ypres. From their various headquarters, all the 11,000 pilgrims will travel to the historic town, where was the famous salient, and will gather at the Menin Gate Memorial to Britons who fell there.

Here there will be an impressive scene. Banners of eighty-seven British Divisions will be displayed over the archway and along the ramparts, and there will be a March Past in which the Prince of Wales and Lady Haig will take part, followed by a religious service at which an address will be given by the Archbishop of York, now Archbishop-Designate of Canterbury.

RUBBER INDUSTRIES BILL.

DROPPED OWING TO LACK OF TIME.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, July 31st.

In the House of Commons, the Rubber Industries Bill has been dropped, owing to insufficient time in which to pass its remaining stages prior to the prorogation of Parliament on August 3rd.

The Bill provided for yearly contributions to the Rubber Research Association.

ANOTHER GERMAN RAIL SMASH.

EXPRESS DASHES INTO GOODS TRAIN.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, July 31st.

Fourteen were killed and over twenty seriously injured in a collision between the Saarbrücken express and a stationary goods train between Ulm and Augsburg. The disaster resulted from the failure of the points to function, the express crashing into the other engine at a high rate of speed. Terrible scenes were witnessed by rescue-parties, many of the fatally injured being terribly mutilated.

REOPENING BOMBAY'S MILLS.

AN EXPERIMENT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BOMBAY, July 31st.

The Mill-owners' Association have decided on the policy of reopening the mills in small groups, a start to be made next week, in order to see how the former employees respond.

It will be remembered that the mill-workers went on strike early this year presenting a demand for considerable wage increases. The employers declined, choosing to close down the mills rather than give way.

MISS MACKAY'S DEATH.

LORD INCHCAPE'S GIFT.

OTHER SUFFERERS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, July 31st.

Lord Inchcape has given the Chancellor of the Exchequer a cheque for $10,000 to be used for the benefit of any other sufferers from the disaster in which his daughter, the Hon. Elsie Mackay, died.

Miss Mackay was lost in the Atlantic when flying with Captain Walter Hinchliffe in an attempt to fly the Atlantic from East to West.

The blow was a tragic one to the Inchcape family, and it was recently announced that the residue of her estate, amounting to £500,000 had been given in trust for the redemption of the National Debt.

Mr. Winston Churchill announced in the Commons that Lord Inchcape desiring that the gift of £500,000 to the Nation should not be the occasion of any complaint by other sufferers from the disaster, had handed him the cheque to be applied to meeting any complaint as Mr. Winston Churchill thinks fit.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said he had handed the sum to the Public Trustee for administration. [An article appeared in Tuesday's Daily Press, telling of the serious position in which Captain Hinchliffe's wife and children were placed as a result of the disaster.]

SHIPS' LOADING POLICY.

DESIRE FOR UNIFORMITY.

GOVERNMENT ACTION.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, July 31st.

The President of the Board of Trade was asked in the House of Commons what action the Government was taking in pursuance of its policy of promoting international uniformity in the matter of ship loadings.

Sir Philip Cunliffe Lister replied that the rules relating to ship loadings were being revised by a Committee, and the revised rules would be sent to the Dominion and foreign Governments for consideration. Every effort was being made to secure international agreement. It was too early yet to say what the precise alterations would be. The Minister added that this subject was not one which, in the ordinary course, would go before the Committee of the League of Nations.

The President of the Board of Trade was also asked about the overloading of ships at certain ports, especially ships engaged in the American coastal trade.

He replied that the Board of Trade had been collecting information on the manner in which ships were loaded in different trades. He had received a statement to the effect that overloading of ships took place in certain trades. What action could be taken was being carefully considered in the interests of the Merchant Service.

KELLOGG PEACE PACT.

RUGBY, July 31st.

The British Government is to sign the Kellogg Peace Treaty in Paris on August 27th. Similar invitations are being transmitted to the Dominions Governments.

ARRIVAL AT ROME.

EXPLORERS' TRIUMPHAL PROGRESS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

ROME, July 31st.

They were greeted at stations along the line, and were given enthusiastic demonstrations on arrival here, being welcomed by the Governor and representatives of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Crowds warmly cheered them.

PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE?

LEADERS' INDISCRETIONS.

DIVERGENT VIEWS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, July 31st.

An alleged Government split over the fiscal issue is agitating political circles following discordant speeches by Mr. Winston Churchill, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sir William Joynton-Hicks, the Home Secretary.

The divergent views held by these two statesmen were demonstrated when Mr. Churchill spoke in the House of Commons upholding the virtues of Free Trade and when, subsequently, in a speech at Romsey, Sir William Joynton-Hicks intimated that in view of the benefits conferred on the smaller trades by the "safeguard" policy, the Government would before the next Election have seriously to consider its extension to major industries, like iron and steel.

Premier's Annoyance.

Mr. Baldwin, the Prime Minister, has so far been silent on the question, but he is reported to be most annoyed at the "indiscretions" of his colleagues, which are diverting public attention from the Government's monumental rating scheme.

Meanwhile, a memorial signed by 270 representatives of basic industries has been forwarded to the Prime Minister urging the Government to seize the opportunity provided by the report of the International Economic Conference to support a movement in the direction of international Free Trade. This memorial declares that no country is so dependent on the free exchange of goods as Britain, whose great industries can only hope to recover their pre-war prosperity by a revival of the overseas markets.

RUBBER QUOTA.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, July 31st.

It is officially announced that the standard production of rubber, which may be exported at the minimum rate of duty from Ceylon and Malaya for the quarter beginning August 1st, will be 60 per cent.

HONG KONG RACING RECORD.

RESULTS FOR THE FIRST HALF OF 1928.

We have received from the Secretary of the Hong Kong Jockey Club a neatly printed little volume entitled Hong Kong's Racing Record for the first half of 1928. It gives the results of all the races, together with the amounts paid by the pari-mutuel and also in alphabetical order a list of the ponies that started and griffins (non-starters) registered to June 30th, 1928.

It is a record which should be of considerable value to those who follow racing keenly and wish to spot winners on the basis of previous form shown.

WIDOW'S FRAUDS.

£120,000 OF HER CLIENTS' MONEY.

PARIS. Bourgeot, 63 years of age, has disappeared from Versailles because, it is stated, of alleged embezzlements amounting to more than £120,000. Mme. Bourgeot had been established at Versailles for 20 years and had earned a considerable reputation for her skill and ability. She undertook the management of estates and recovery of rents, and carried out on behalf of many of her clients the investment of the funds she received.

Her business grew until she was obliged to employ a number of clerks. She was always dressed in black and lived with great simplicity.

Three days ago one of her clients, M. Verondat, asked her for funds, and she gave a cheque representing $200. Payment of this was refused when it was presented at the bank, and when the police were informed it was found that Mme. Bourgeot was missing.

Many of her clients are retired bank directors and business men, and others are small shopkeepers, priests and persons owning small fortunes in land and houses.

MINDEN DAY CELEBRATION.

KING'S OWN SCOTTISH BORDERERS.

FINE EXHIBITION OF HIGHLAND DANCING.

AQUATIC SPORTS AT TAI WAN BAY.

The Murray Parade Ground was the venue yesterday of an entertainment such as is seldom given for the benefit of residents when the 2nd Batt. King's Own Scottish Borderers gave an exhibition of Highland Dancing in honour of Minden Day.

The Commanding Officer, Lieut.-Colonel L. J. Comyn, C.M.G., D.S.O., was the moving spirit of the performance, and his keen interest in "Highland Dancing" was expressed by his gift of a challenge cup to be competed for by the various companies under his command.

Speaking before the presentation of the trophies Colonel Comyn said that he was very strongly of the opinion that the survival of Highland Dancing in Scotland depended on the army who when they went home would re-introduce it in their native land.

Colonel Comyn's Cup was won by Headquarters wing with 183 points.

REGIMENTAL TROPHIES.

Minden Day was celebrated here this year by the 2nd Battalion K.O.S.B. as it never has been before. Every soldier wore a rose in his bonnet, and the first display was that of the regimental colours trophies and silver. They were laid out in the Murray Barracks Square where they made a wonderful display, the Officers' Mess and Sergeants' Mess both having a remarkably fine collection of silver. They were on view between the hours of 8 a.m. and mid-day to the troops who enjoyed a unique opportunity of seeing the honourable trophies of their regiment arranged in one big display.

HIGHLAND DANCING.

DISPLAY.

HEADQUARTER WING'S TRIUMPH.

In the evening the Murray Parade Ground was crowded with Service men and their wives and friends. The kilts and bonnets of the men, and the frocks of the ladies made a colourful display such as is always associated with Scottish Regiments. The officers, H.E. the Officer Administering the Government (the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G.), and his friends were accommodated in chairs in front of the match, while behind them and in a semi-circle the other side of the stage, were men with their wives. The stage itself, a small wooden platform on which it seemed next to impossible that eight men could execute such complicated steps and manoeuvres, was brightly lit by the arc lamps which generally hang over the boxing ring, and the effect of this strong illumination in the middle of the moon lit ground was very striking and served to concentrate attention on the dancers.

Inter-Company Eighteens.

The first event was eighteens in which five companies competed, each team included one officer. This competition, for Col. Comyn's Cup, was judged in conjunction with the foursooms with which the programme ended and resulted as follows:—

- 1.—Headquarter Wing, with Capt. Abbott, 183 marks.
- 2.—"B" Company, 164 marks.
- 3.—"A" Company, 155 marks.
- 4.—"C" Company, 145 marks.
- 5.—Machine Gun Company, 134 marks.

Highland Fling.

Perhaps more interesting to the civilian spectators was the individual dancing competition for which there were 18 entries, officers and men, who had never danced in a Battalion Dancing Team. Lance-Corporal Stokes, of Headquarters Wing, won the first prize, presented by Lieut. Abbott. The second prize, presented by Lieut. Shillington, was won by Bandsman Orman, of the same company, and the third prize given by Pipe-Major Mackie was also won for Headquarters Wing by Piper Robertson.

Sword Dance.

Then came the Argyll Broad-swords which the ladies in particular enjoyed. This was danced by Pipe Corp. Young, Lieut. Forrest, Piper Taylor and Piper Howie in full dress and they acquitted themselves to the full approval of the audience. The other dancers were in shorts and white shirts since not all the regiment possess kilts, and it was the more delightful in consequence to see this very graceful dance embellished with the full glory of tartan and plaid.

The Pipeps.

On the three pipers, in full dress, who accompanied the dance, fell much of the heat and burden of the day and their playing contributed much towards the enjoyment of the evening. They were Lieut. Forrest, Piper Shillington and Piper McDougal.

TENNIS NOTES.

The current Tennis League fixtures are drawing to a close. On the whole the season has been particularly interesting and at times the matches have been attractive. Principal attention has been focussed on the Chinese Recreation Club whose four teams dominated their respective divisions and at the present time they have already won the "A" and "B" Shields, while the issue for the "C" Shield is practically certain to be decided between their two teams both of which have come off unbeaten so far.

Admirable performances in the "B" Division by the South China Athletic Association and the Hong Kong Cricket Club, who were back numbers last season, have also added colour to the League. The former deserve congratulations on gaining the second position, as this is only their second season in the League. They have yet to play the Nippon Club in their last match. Last year they finished seventh in the League Table with four wins and seven reverses, but this time they have only lost to the Chinese Recreation Club who proved to be their superiors by a wide margin. During the two seasons the players in their regular team have been Luk Kang Chung, Luk Ding Cheung, Lee Woon Tsai, Lee Wai Tsai, Ho Wai Hing and Chan So.

The performances of the Hong Kong Cricket Club have been equally good. Last year the Cricket Club finished near the bottom of the League, but they have shown great improvement and have finished near the top this time. Their "A" team has been considerably strengthened by the inclusion of several new players with the result that the "B" team has been correspondingly reinforced. Another factor in their success is the keenness of the players. An example of this is the interest shown in the Hong Doubles now going on. Besides the matches in this Tournament, a good many players can always be seen on any playing day on the Cricket Club courts. The spirit of the game is certainly great.

They have now completed their programme having played their last match against the University on Saturday, and of the ten matches they won eight and lost two. The results were as follows:—

beat M.B.K. 58-41
beat Kowloon C.O. 75-24
beat Indian R.C. 58-41
beat R. Engineers 63-36
beat Recoio 51-48
beat Craigengower 55-44
beat University 58-41
beat Nippon 68-33
lost to South China A.A. 43-50
lost to Chinese R.C. 45-64

They have thus an average of 58.3 games won per match and lost an average of 42.9 games per match, which is a creditable achievement.

Turning to the competition for the "C" Division Shield, it is generally expected that one of the two Chinese Recreation Club teams will win it, but keen rivalry exists between the Recoio II. and South China for the third position. Both have lost one match each, but as the South China still have to meet both the Chinese Recreation Club teams, their prospects are not as good as those of the Recoio II. who have one team only to play. Added to that the Recoio II. have beaten Kowloon by no means a weak side, while South China will also have to meet Kowloon. It seems probable that a fine struggle will take place for the positions in the top half of the League Table.

More matches have been decided in Hong Double Tournament which is now in its fourth round stage. The results have been reported day by day and there is therefore no need for recapitulation. The positions to the last eight remaining pairs are as follows:—

- (1) C. L. Sande and H. Graves (Mercantile Bank) rec. 13.
- (2) L. Col. F. J. Wyatt and Rev. F. P. W. Alexander owe 15/3.
- (3) C. Blaker and G. Miskin (Gilman & Co.) owe 2/6.
- (4) W. D. Fiddes Wilson and R. Gordon (Jardine Matheson) or.
- (5) C. C. Stark and E. J. R. Mitchell owe 2/6 v. G. W. Sewell and H. Owen Hughes owe 15/2.
- (6) E. D. Lawrence and T. D. E. Fendered (A.P.C.) owe 3/6.
- (7) W. B. Cornaby and A. Fleay (Jardine Matheson) owe 11.
- (8) R. K. Valentine and A. D. Humphreys (Dodwell & Co.) owe 15 v. A. H. Penn and C. P. James rec. 15.

The Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps made their debut yesterday when they met the Club de Recoio on their opponents' courts. The match had a very exciting ending and eventually the Volunteers won by one game only. The winners had an uphill fight right through and they were 9 games down at the end of the first round and 8 games down at the end of the second round. They rallied splendidly in the final round and drew level at the 8th game, winning the last and deciding game. The details appear elsewhere in this issue.

VOLUNTEERS AT PLAY.

ONE GAME VICTORY.

By a margin of one game only the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps beat the Club de Recoio in their initial match this season. The match was played on the Portuguese courts at King's Park and the Home team led in the early stages, but the Volunteers made a fine recovery.

The deciding game was played between Parker and Stanion and E. de Souza and E. A. Noronha amidst much excitement. Stanion served and the Volunteers took the game after 40.30 had been called.

Scores:—
E. de Souza and E. A. Noronha (Recoio) lost to S. E. Green and H. Owen Hughes 4-7
lost to R. K. Valentine and Mitchell 2-6
beat Parker and Stanion 7-4

Ribeiro and A. Remedios (Recoio) lost to S. E. Green and H. Owen Hughes 2-9
lost to R. K. Valentine and Mitchell 3-9
beat Parker and Stanion 8-3

Yvanovich and F. Remedios lost to S. E. Green and H. Owen Hughes 2-9 beat R. K. Valentine and Mitchell 9-2
beat Parker and Stanion 9-2

HONG DOUBLES.

TODAY'S MATCH.

THIRD ROUND.
R. K. Valentine and A. D. Humphreys (Dodwell & Co.) owe 15 v. A. H. Penn and C. P. James rec. 15.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL.

DRAGONS v. THE REST NEXT BANK HOLIDAY.

The Hong Kong Baseball Association is arranging an unusual treat for local baseball fans on Monday next—Bank Holiday. It is rare to play an exhibition game in mid-season, but this is in store for spectators who will attend at Happy Valley that afternoon. A representative selection of the best talent in the Colony, including men from the American warships in port, will compose an "All-Hong Kong" side to meet the South China "Dragons" at 4 p.m. The former team will include the strongest players available for each position. Fitted against them will be the strong South China combination. The latter team succeeded in winning the championship of the Colony last season, and this contest will prove to some extent whether or not it is still the best side. Further particulars will be given later.

LAWN BOWLS.

RESULTS IN SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

SECOND ROUND COMPLETED.

Satisfactory progress is being made with the lawn bowls open singles championship, which it is hoped to conclude before the inter-port team leaves for Shanghai—weather permitting.

Of the second round ties not previously commented upon in the Daily Press some interest was taken in the meeting of G. Moss, the Police R.C. skip, and E. W. Hogbin, the K.B.G.C. griffin. The latter emerged successfully and went on to beat A. W. Grimmit, the Civil Service skip, in the third round. After Grimmit had accounted for F. Cullen, a past champion, in the second round, his chances of going much further were fancied by some who had evidently not witnessed his game against C. J. Tacchi when he just scraped home.

W. Hill, of the K.C.C. defeated L. J. Whant, C.S.C.C., and now meets J. Gibson, also of the K.C.C. J. Brown, Kowloon Dock R.C. did well to defeat E. Eccleshall, C.S.C.C., after the handsomely manner in which the latter beat J. Fraser, K.C.C., in the first round. Another good performance was that of J. A. Lindsay, Kowloon Dock, in vanquishing N. Drummond, Taikoo R.C., who is playing a great game this season. W. Macfarlane, K.B.G.C. got home against J. J. White, of Taikoo, but another Taikoo player, J. Laing, defeated B. F. Luz, only however, to go under R. Duncan, K.B.G.C., in the third round.

The following shows the full results in the second round:—
A. W. Grimmit defeated F. Cullen.
E. W. Hogbin defeated G. Moss.
W. Hill defeated L. J. Whant.
J. Gibson defeated J. Chalmers.
J. Ferguson defeated D. C. Whalmsley.
A. C. V. Ribeiro defeated J. Holledge.
J. Brown defeated E. Eccleshall.
J. A. Lindsay defeated N. Drummond.
W. Macfarlane defeated J. J. White.
F. C. Goodman defeated W. Russell.
J. Laing defeated R. F. Luz.
R. Duncan defeated U. M. Omar.
C. Bennett defeated C. Atkinson.
A. R. Clark defeated G. Wagge.
J. O. McLaggan defeated W. Mair.
T. D. E. Fendered defeated D. Rumbhah.

Third Round Ties.

The following are the ties in the third round:—
E. W. Hogbin beat A. W. Grimmit.
W. Hill v. J. Gibson.
J. Ferguson v. A. C. V. Ribeiro.
J. Brown v. J. A. Lindsay.
W. Macfarlane v. F. C. Goodman.
R. Duncan beat J. Laing.
A. R. Clark beat C. Bennett.
J. O. McLaggan v. T. D. E. Fendered.

J. Gibson should defeat W. Hill, but J. Ferguson may find A. C. V. Ribeiro a hard nut to crack. The Brown-Lindsay tie should be worth seeing at the Kowloon Dock. If F. C. Goodman repeats his form against W. Russell when he meets the last eight. Another open affair is the meeting of T. D. E. Fendered and J. O. McLaggan.

As a member of the Kowloon Dock R.C. has won the championship three years in succession, it is interesting to note that four members are still going strong this season. What about a Kowloon Dock final again? J. Brown v. F. C. Goodman?

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE UNFINISHED BOWLS MATCH.

[TO THE EDITOR OF "THE HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

Sir,—I have followed with interest the correspondence dealing with the "row" between the local Lawn Bowls Association and Craigengower regarding the unfinished bowls match with Kowloon Dock. It is observed that the Association suggested that a replay or continuance of the match be left in abeyance pending a ruling from the E.B.A., and at the same time they leave it to the Clubs concerned to carry on with the match. This is putting it both ways.

However laudable may be the desire of the officers of the Association to obtain a "ruling" for future guidance, they fail to convince impartial observers of the justification for seeking to apply such ruling to a match this season when a precedent has been established which cannot be retracted. Yours faithfully, UNBIASED.

Hong Kong, August 1st.

TUNNEY LEAVES THE RING.

NOTHING MORE TO OFFER.

FAME AND FORTUNE.

[BUTTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, July 31st.

Gene Tunney, the heavyweight champion of the world, announced at a luncheon party to-day that in meeting and defeating Tom Heeny last week, he had fought his last fight as a professional boxer. Tunney declared that he naturally regretted to announce his permanent retirement from the ring, but the time had come when professional boxing offered nothing further that he desired.

"I am putting it behind me feeling that I am still young enough to make a new start in other fields," he added.

The champion also explained that it might be two or three years before a dangerous opponent developed sufficiently to earn the right to challenge him for the title. It was much too long for him to wait and he had not thought of trying to nominate his successor.

It is believed that as the result of careful investment, Tunney's fortune comfortably exceeds a million dollars.

GOLD HELMET OF A KING.

VANITY BOXES CARRIED IN ANCIENT UR.

TREASURES ON VIEW IN LONDON.

One of the most important exhibitions of its kind was opened at the British Museum, when the public were allowed to view, for the first time, the Royal treasures of Ur of the Chaldees, excavated by Mr. C. Leonard Woolley and his associates. The exhibit date back millenniums before Christ, but so far as artistry and design are concerned it is clear that the twentieth century has little to teach the Sumerians.

Pre-eminent in the collection is the wonderful helmet of King Mes-Kalam-Dug. Fashioned in gold, little holes pierced round its base show that originally it was lined with a padded woollen cap. When it was found in the Iraq desert one side was crushed by the weight of the sand, but the damage has been made good.

How Hair Was Worn.

Another object in the gallery that excites admiration is the gold headress worn by Queen Shubad. It is a ribbony affair, and for the head on which it is exhibited a cast was taken of a female skull of the First Dynasty of Ur. It had been intended to have the cast taken from the head of the Queen, but the skull was too fragmentary. Of interest is the fact that the hair was then worn to coil into a bun at the back.

As to-day, the women of those far-off times had their vanity-boxes, and a beautiful example shown is semi-circular in form. In-laid on the lid is the figure of a lion tearing to pieces a prostrate bull. There is also shown a fine statue of a bull, which was discovered standing over the corpse of the victims sacrificed in the king's grave.

For sheer artistry, perhaps, a mosaic piece in the collection has no match. It is in shell and lapis lazuli, and was found leaning against the right shoulder of a man. On one side is pictured the Royal family at a feast, with the attendants bringing up food, and on the other the Sumerian army. Mr. Woolley believes the piece was used as a standard.

The Queen's Cloak.

A woman's cloak found in the queen's grave gives some idea of fashion at the time. It is a beaded garment opening on the right side, and with a fringe of bugle beads at the base, to which are suspended gold rings. It was fastened by means of a gold pin, protected by a lapis lazuli seal. The grave was identified by the figures on the seal.

A male fashion that prevailed then is now one that is exclusively women's. Earrings were worn by the courtiers, and some excellent specimens are exhibited. Mascots were also apparently in vogue, and were carried on the rein-rings of the chariot harness. Two shown are a silver bull and a silver wild ass.

Objects from private graves of the Sargonic period, 2700-2600 B.C., include rings, bracelets, and frontlets, mostly in gold. No search round any modern shop would result in nester ornaments of the kind being found.

LONDON'S SCARE-PROOF HORSES.

DUMMY CARS, TRAIN TRAF-FIC POLICE MOUNTS.

"Wal, that horse has got more nerve than I have," said a middle-aged American who, caught in the traffic at the Oxford-street end of New Bond-street, W., sought refuge by the side of a mounted policeman.

The horse moved forward, and with it the American, while the rider proceeded to disentangle the knots into which the traffic had tied itself.

The calmest individual on the spot was the horse. After standing statue-like in the whirlpool of traffic he moved forward utterly unconcerned, never indicating by so much as the flicker of an ear that he was in the least bit excited.

An official at Scotland Yard told a Daily Mail reporter that in addition to the usual training at Imber Court, Thames Ditton, Surrey, to fit these horses for all traffic conditions the animals have every year a "refresher" course of two weeks.

Jack-in-the-Box Man.

The novices are given training lasting from ten weeks to three months. There are dummies counterfeiting trains, motor-cars, tramway-cars, level crossing gates, bridges, and aeroplanes.

To accustom them to fire, and smoke the horses pass between bonfires. A catapult arrangement fixed to a tree sends a newspaper fluttering between the horses' legs. The police act as crowds, throwing missiles in the shape of rubber balls. There is even a jack-in-the-box arrangement to suggest a man coming out of a house.

LADY BONN'S CASE ENDS.

"SIX DAYS' HEARING."
SIR MAX'S REPLY OPENED.

LONDON, July 11th.
The court was again crowded for the sixth day's hearing of the petition of Lady (Hilda Beatrice) Bonn against Sir Max Julius Philip Bonn, her second husband.

Lady Bonn seeks the dissolution of her marriage on the ground of alleged adultery by Sir Max with a woman unknown in Paris, and with Cecile Benoit, now of Amsterdam, who formerly had a flat in Mayfair.

Sir Max, who also asks for a divorce in his countercharges, names Lt-Col. Sir Ronald Waterhouse and Mr. Arthur Marcus Hambury.

The allegations made are denied by all parties.

Lady Bonn occupied a seat with a woman friend behind counsel. Sir Max sat at the solicitors' table in front.

On Saturday Lord Merrivale suggested that counsel might consider the desirability of a verdict being given by the jury at the close of Lady Bonn's case as the two cases did not overlap.

When the court assembled yesterday, Sir Ellis Hume-Williams (for Lady Bonn) said: We have very carefully considered the proposal your lordship made at the adjournment of the proceedings on Saturday.

"Not One Word."
Lord Merrivale: Let me say at once that it is a matter as to which the responsibility rests entirely with the court, and I have a very definite view about it.

Sir Ellis: Yes, I was going to say that we should not only be perfectly prepared to adopt such a course but venture to suggest it would be a just one.

Sir Walter Schwabe (for Sir Max Bonn): We also have had an opportunity of considering the suggestion and the conclusion we have come to is that it would be a very undesirable course to take.

Lord Merrivale: I am very sorry counsel have thought it desirable to make a statement about it. As the case proceeds the parties must bear in mind that counsel at the close of the issues now being investigated may have to address the jury on them.

Sir Walter: Perhaps your lordship will allow me to say one word on the point.

Lord Merrivale: No, Sir Walter, not one word. I am always pleased to hear you, but I think it better you should not say anything more now.

Sir Ellis Hume-Williams: I may mention that a member of the jury wanted to address a communication to Sir Walter and myself.

Lord Merrivale: It is obvious he cannot.

Sir Ellis: No, I told him the right course was to address a submission to your lordship.

A THIEF'S TASTE.

CHOICE OF FINE FURS AND RARE BOOKS.

PARIS.
Major Keith Trevor, the British sportsman, and his wife, who before her marriage was Mlle. Jane Marne, the popular Parisian actress, have been the victims of a burglar who entered their flat late one Saturday night and stole jewels, furs and other articles valued at more than £5,000.

The thief, who obviously had artistic tastes and was somewhat of a literary connoisseur, first broke open a secret compartment containing valuable jewels, then selected the finest of Mrs. Trevor's furs, and finally made a judicious choice in the library of rare first editions, including Beaudelaire's "Fleurs du Mal," Verlaine's "Poemes," and Oscar Wilde's "Portrait of Dorian Gray."

The police are looking for a valet who was engaged by Major Keith Trevor.

Detectives' Evidence.

Evidence was continued on behalf of Lady Bonn by four private detectives.

They were followed by police-constables William Henry Tomkins, attached to Marlborough-street Police Court, W., George Saunders, of Vine-street Police Court, W., and by Mr. William Rollo, partner in the firm of solicitors acting for Lady Bonn, Messrs. Withers, Benson & Co.

This concluded the case for Lady Bonn.

Sir Max Bonn's Case.

Lord Merrivale, in answer to a question by Sir Walter Schwabe, told Sir Walter that he could make such an opening statement, on behalf of Sir Max as he thought best.

Evidence could be called in answer to Lady Bonn's charges and that part of the case summed up to the jury.

Sir Ellis Hume-Williams, on the other hand, would sum up for Lady Bonn and the jury's verdict would be taken, which would be an interim verdict. After that the case for Sir Max Bonn against his wife could be opened and dealt with.

Sir Walter Schwabe said it was obvious, in his opinion, that the evidence he had to call on this part of the case would touch on the other part of the case.

Lord Merrivale said that any evidence relating to the wife's petition would be admissible. It was quite immaterial whether it was admissible at some other part of the case.

Sir Walter opened the case for Sir Max Bonn in reply to Lady Bonn's charges, and had not concluded when the court adjourned.

It is not likely that Sir Max Bonn's charges against Lady Bonn will be gone into and allowed to be published in the Press until next week.
